

COMP 1270 Reflection #1

A Double-Edged Sword?

Due any time prior to 11:59 pm, Monday, January 20.

It was mentioned in class that technology can often be viewed in terms of both gain and loss.

Reflect on your perspective of this gain and loss. Do you agree that there is an element of loss or is it all about gain? Offer some examples that support your thoughts.

Reflections are to be 350 – 500 words and are to be submitted via the D2L Dropbox in one of doc or docx formats. Please name your file as follows: LastName_FirstName_Reflection1.

Reflections are personal introspections. There are no right or wrong answers.

There is nothing wrong with doing a little reading before writing a reflection if you choose to do so. Just keep in mind that the reflection ultimately consists of your perspective.

Take the reflection where ever you please.

The reflection is informal, but reasonable spelling and grammar is appreciated.
